TALKON SILVER AND TARIFF

Representative Henry U. Johnson's Common Sense View of the Situation.

Explanation for Cary Snyder's Disappearance from Carroll County-Terre Haute Car Works to Resume at Once.

HON, HENRY U. JOHNSON. The Sixth District Representative Talks of Silver and Tartiff Legislation.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal Union City, Ind., July 20.-Hon. Henry U. Johnson visited Union City, yesterday, and was interviewed by a Journal correspondent. He is making the round of his district in order to get the views of his constituents on public questions. He expects to be in Washington on the lat of August. When asked what Congress would do at its extra session, Mr. Johnson replied: "Very little of anything. I think the House will repeal the Sherman bill, but the Senate will not, unless something as good or better is offered the silver men. There is nothing in the rules or practice of the Senate to prevent the silver men from talking the matter to death, and they will do it. Silver is their wheat, and they will do everything in their power to prevent any by Woodward Stewart, a well known and anti-silver legislation. "What will the Democrate do with the tariff!" "The tariff will be modified in some respects; reduced on some articles and possibly others placed on the free list. There will be no sweeping changes, and what few are made will be made with caution." "Then we are not to have that blessed free trade so much talked of by the Democratic newspapers and stump speakers." "Certainly not. You knew that as well as did every other intelligent man. The tariff will stand as it is, substantially.' What is the cause of the present financial condition of the country?'

"I do not think that any one thing is; it is rather a combination of elements. The uncertainty of the kind of tariff legislation we are to have is probably the greater cause. If I were a manufacturer I do not think I should tie up my means in manufactured articles until I knew that there was not to be an actual loss in them, at least. And the manufacturers are not doing it. They are filling actual orders only, and are not filling up their warehouses. Retailers are boying only in small quantities, because they know that the prospects for a decline in prices are good, while there is no chance for an advance. So they do not want to be caught with a big stock when the decline comes. This unsettled condition makes capitalists distrustful of investments and their money lies idle.'

Mr. Johnson thinks the extra session and the following regular session will be very interesting. He says that the Democrats have no man capable of leading the party out of its present difficulty.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

Principal Snyder's Mental Hallucination-Months of Time He Cannot Account For. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

DELPHI, Ind., July 20.-Four months ago Cary O. Snyder, who had just closed his year's work as principal of the schools at Pyrmont, this county, suddenly disappeared from home. The morning be left he took a horse to the blacksmith shop to have it shod, went from there to Buck Creek and took a train for Lafayette. There all trace of him was lost and nothing more was heard of him by his friends until July 8, when he made his appearance at his home in Pyrmont. Snyder states | to be on the main line and the others on that his mind is an absolute blank from the moment he left Pyrmont until a few weeks ago, when he found bimself under the care of a physician, Dr. H. E. Irwin, in Detroit, Mich. He had been a great sufferer from catarrh, which the physician says affected his brain, paralyzing his memory faculty and rendering him absolutely without responsibility.

The case is an interesting one, and not without precedent. There was no reason why Snyder should leave home. He was happily married, and stood high in the community in which he lived. When he left he had no money to speak of, and took his departure in an old suit of clothes. His young wife always clung to the theory that her husband was suffering from such an attack as the physician describes, and never ceased in attempting to locate him. Her devotion and anxiety were touching, and she always resented the intimation that he had deliberately and in his right mind abandoned her and their little child. He does not show complete recovery from his mental trouble, but it is thought that with careful treatment he will be compietely restored.

Raised $50 on a Forged Check. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., July 20 .- Last evening, after banking hours, a negro named Peter H. Roberts presented to F. M. Hadlev. a grocer, a check calling for $50 in payment of a grocery bill, asking the balance in cash. The check purported to be signed prosperous farmer. Mr. Hadley accepted the check and paid the balance of $30 in cash. The check was presented to and paid by the bank. Afterward it was discovered to be a forgery, and was so pronounced by Mr. Stewart. It was then learned that Roberts left town by an early train this morning, and is supposed to have gone to Columbus, O. About three years ago this same man while at Richmond, Ind., telegraphed to the bank here to send him a specified amount of cash, signing the name of Henry George, a wealthy farmer. The bank, thinking it genuine, sent the money. In a few days a second telegram of a similar nature was received by the bank. This aroused suspicion, and the matter was investigated, resulting in the arrest and conviction of Roberts, who has since served a term in the penitentiary.

The Red Cross Branch,

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. BEDFORD, Ind., July 20.-The Red Cross Society of America is rapidly gaining a good reputation here. Bedford will soon have the honor of possessing one of its main branches for headquarters, located upon the tract of land Dr. Joseph Gardner donated to the society. Some of the superior members have been in this city expending time and money in the development of the location. It is likely that Miss Clara Barton, the president, will spend most of her time here, and the society will likely make its headquarters here at times. Some of the prominent citizens recently called upon Miss Barton for the purpose of calling a meeting soon, when the nature and the work of the society will be more fully explained. Although no date has been agreed upon, it is probable that Miss Barton will comply with the request at an early date. She expects to be in Washington, D. C., when Congress convenes.

Attempted Wrecking of a Street Motor.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SEYMOUR, Ind., July 20 .- Some party or parties to-night pried open a spring switch on the steam motor street-car line and put a block between it and the main line rail. When the front wheels passed over it the block was crushed, and the switch flying back, caused part of the wheels the switch. The movement derailed the engine, and Mrs. Pat Honan, a passenger, seeing it, jumped from the car, and in falling received severe, but not fatal, injuries. This is the third time that attempts have been made to wreck the cars at that place.

FRAUDS ON THE SANTA FE.

$17,000 Monthly from the Pay Car for Men Who Do Not Exist.

Topeka, Kan., July 20.-The Santa Fe management has just unearthed extensive frauds on the division of its road included between Topeka and Chicago. The frauds, it is said, have resulted in a loss to the road of $17,000 a month. The conspiracy is far-reaching in its ramifications, and included, it is said, various officials, from assistants to the division superintendent down to the section bosses. The scheme was to pad the pay rolls with the names of fictitious men and to divide the amount thus secured among the various conspirators. When the last pay car went out notice was sent ahead that each man must apply in person for his money. It is said that the number of persons who sent word that they were too ill to go down to the station to get their money was astonishing. Detectives have been put on the case and sensational arrests are expected soon.

COLLEGE FRATERNITY DAY

Sigma Chis Open Their Convention and Attend the Panhellenic Blowout.

World's Fair Grounds Echowith College Songs -Sweden's Day-Typewriters' and Stenographers' Congress - Notes.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, CHICAGO, July 20 .- Sigma Chi, the college fraternity that sprang into notoriety last fall by having its goat ridden by President Cleveland, and which has four chapters in Indiana, opened its convention at the University Hotel this afternoon, at 2 o'clock. In the absence of Grand Consul Reginald Fendall, of Washington, D. C., National Secretary W. L. Alden. of Chicago, presided. Committees were appointed and all the preliminaries of the convention disposed of. At 4 o'clock the delegates adjourned and took a steamer for the fair grounds, where they joined in the concert on the lake front. At 9 o'clock to-night they took dinner at the famous White Horse Inn, world's fair grounds. Three hundred and tifty members of the fraternity are in the city. They wound up the evening at the Panhellenic reception in the New York State building. College fraternity day was observed by several thousand enthusiastic students at Jackson Park today. No special programme was carried out, but the bands on the grounds observed the day by playing well-known college airs to the exclusion of the operatio melodies with which the ears of the populace are generally regaled. A variety of college songs were sung in the atternoon, at the music pavilion, on the east side of Manufactures Building, around which the students assembled in large numbers. The latter part of the afternoon was devoted to social amenities, the women having arranged a reception for the men at the New The annual convention of the Phi Beta Phi college society has called together sixty college girls from different institutions. This is the oldest ladies' secret society in existence, having been founded at Monmouth, Ill., in 1867. The present convention is attempting to establish a second degree of the order, members being eligible only after they have left college. Miss Emma Harper Turner, of Washington, D. C., the grand president, is presiding.

Sweden had her day at the World's Columbian Exposition to-day. The custom of setting apart a day for each of the great nations of the world has grown in popularity, and the immense numbers that marched in the procession to-day made the Swedish day one of the most successful demonstrations of this character that have been witnessed. From the Swedish building the procession moved east to the Canadian building, north past the Spanish, German, Norwegian and French buildings, countermarching south to the English government building, and then again west past the Swedish government building to the Fisheries Building, where the procession disbanded. After the parade a grand concert was held in Festival Hall. C. F. Lundquist, of the Royal opera, Stockholm, and Mme. Caroline Oesterberg, the well-known Swedish soprano, were brought from Sweden especially for this day and their efforts were loudly applauded by their appreciative countrymen. Conrad Behrens, the distinguished basso, also participated and all were assisted by the Swedish singing societies and Theodore Thomas's orchestra of 140 pieces. At o'clook this evening Swedish day was further celebrated at the world's fair by a mass meeting at the Swedish government building. After speech-making there was an elaborate display of fireworks in honor of the day. Among the features was a gigantic reproduction of the Swedish and United States flags with the word "Sweden" produced in lines of silver. Then came floating lights of great brilliancy, a wonderful aquatic display entitled "Frolic of the Water Devile," produced by the discharge of small fountains; flying fish, water devils, the floating swan, showing a flock of swans sailing on the surface of the lake; fountains rising from the water and throwing columns of liquid fire into the air; salvo of gigantic sixtyinch bombs, flight of the tourbillons, horizontal wheels on the lake front, with small fountains of jeweled jets and an illumination of the lake and grounds by half a ton of magnesium fire. The republic of Colombia threw open the doors of its building at the world's fair today. The structure stands in the rear of the Swedish and German edifices, and is the smallest in the foreign galaxy, except that of Norway. Italian renaissance is the prevailing style: It is two stories high. and is surrounded by a gallery extending to the second story. Eighty-three years ago to-day Colombia declared its independence from Spain, and the formal dedieation of the building was delayed until the anniversary of that momentous event.

To the numerous congresses at the Art Institute on educational subjects was added to-day a congress of stenographers. There was a profusion of typewriter girls. J. L. Bennett, of Chicago, who was made chairman, congratulated those present on being members of the first stenographic congress ever held. Then he read the first paper on the programme, which was written by Prof. William Kronshein, of Germany. The subject was "The Relation of Stenography to a Universal Language." A number of other papers were read. Saturday, July 22, will be stenographers' day at the world's fair. This day has been assigned by the council of administration, and arrangements have been made for addresses in Music Hall, at the north end of the Periatyle, at 2:30 P. M., by Robert R. Hitt, of Illinois, and Robert W. Mitchell, of Oregon. There will also be an address by May Wright Sewall, of Indianapolis, in the Woman's Building at 4 P. M.

The resolution adopted by the local directory closing the gates of the fair Sundays was brought into the national commission to-day and read for confirmation. Commissioner Clendening said that as the resolution entirely ignored the authority of the national commission he moved to lay the resolution on the table. The motion prevailed. A communication from a Pittsburg firm stating that it had an exhibit valued at $100,000 adjacent to the oil storage house where six thousand barrels of oil were stored, and on account of this the firm was unable to obtain any insurance against fire excepting at extrahazardons rates, and that unless this oil was removed the firm said it would hold the United States government responsible for all losses if fire should result, was referred to the committee on grounds and buildings.

The birthday of Queen Marguerite, of Italy, was celebrated at the Woman's Building to-day. The bureau of music appounces that the American compositions received under the circular of June 29, 1892, have been examined by the board of judges appointed for that purpose. The accepted compositions are now being prepared for performance, of which due announcement will be made. Ali the Russian exhibits at the world's fair have been put under cover, and will not be uncovered to public gaze until satistaction has been given for an alleged insult to the Russians by the officers of the United States. The cause which led to the action taken by the Rossians was a demand by the United States customs authorities for the keys to the showcases in the Russian

Paid admissions at the fair to-day were Watterson on the Plaisance, Chicago Tribune. Henry Watterson, who is at the Richelien, has been studying the various things to be found in Midway Plaisance. He tells the story thus: "I had heard several remarks made about the terribly wicked things to be found in Midway, and, in the interest of mankind in general, I concluded that it was my duty to see them, and, if necessary, raise my voice and wield my pen in saying things about them. Well, I 'have saw them'-as an old friend of mine in Louisville says-and the verdict I have reached is that the Midway Plaisance has no right to be connected in any way with such a wonderful show as the world's fair. There is nothing of interest there to me except the types of people. The so-called shows are frauds and 'fakes.' Those that are advertised as being obscene and vulgar are weak and vapid. There is nothing terrible about them at all, and the mysterious whispered comments upon their broadness are unnecessary. There is no vulgarity about them. They are insipid. One woman, who poses as a Persian, was asked by a friend of mine what she was doing. No answer was expected, as we didn't suppose a Persian could understand English. To our surprise, however, she looked at us, and in good Bowery patois said: 'I am knitting. What do you suppose I am doing?' Then, with a downward, horizontal movement of her hand, she inquired if we

Julian Hawthorne's Impressions. July Lippincott. The fact is, the fair is both too large and too small. It is too small for the exhibitors, and too large for the visitors. No one pair of eyes can even see it all in six months; as to digesting what you see, that is out of the question. For here are amassed samples of everything that the civilized world produces. There is too much of it; but it cannot be helped, for the reason is that the civilized world has grown too large. It is so large that the barest epitome of it is practically unmanageable. In future years it will be worse still; and the only solution of the difficulty that i can propose is that a continuous world's fair should be established in some convenient place, permanently accessible to the public, and to be enlarged and modified as occasion may demand. When our flying machines are perfected, we can get to the central point easily, and the only precaution to be observed will be to select a site where the fair can indefinitely ex-

Russia to Back France and China Will Help Siam When the Time Comes.

Dispatch from Bangkok Says French Guns Are Trained on the City-Hasty and Significant Meeting of the English Cabinet.

Paris, July 20.-Siam's reply to France's ultimatum is not expected to be given before Saturday night or Sunday. It is thought that in case the reply be unfavorable Rear Admiral Humann will await the arrival of M. De Villiers, a special commissioner sent out by the French government, before taking final action. The Debats says this morning: The left bank of the Mekong river is the minimum of our claims. Afterwards we must obtain on the right bank such a delimitation of the frontier as will prevent any conflict in the future. These are questions to be settled directly with Siam. They do not concern

The statement is published that Baron Mohrenheim, Russian embassador to France, officially informed the French government prior to the session of the Chamber of Deputies, on Tuesday last, when M. Develle the Foreign Minister, defined France's position in the Franco-Siamese dispute, that Russia would support France on all points involved in the Siamese difficulty. It is further said that the Russian fleet in Chinese waters is under orders to proceed to the Gulf of Siam for the purpose of supporting the French and of protecting the French residents in Stam. The fleet is expected to shortly arrive in Siamese

England Much Concerned. LONDON, July 20.-A special cabinet meeting was summoned in Downing street this afternoon. There was a full attendance. France's demands on Siam were discussed at length and eventually instructions for the Marquis of Dufferin, British embassador to France, were formulated and approved. Immediately after the meeting the Earl of Roseberry, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, communicated with the Admiralty as regards the disposition of the fleet in Asiatic waters. Late in the afternoon special orders were dispatched by the Admiralty to Vice Admiral Sir E. B. Fremantle, commander-in-chief of the Chinese division of the fleet. These facts, together with the sudden canceling of the Marquis of Dufferin's leave of absence, are regarded as hardly in harmony with the official predictions of a perfectly amicable settlement with France of the Siamese difficulty. Even if not alarmed by the course of France, the government is believed to realize that the Siamese affair is fraught | hind Dwyer, and Kid Reed and Charles with the most serious possibilities, for which immediate preparations must be made by Great Britain. Stam in Front of the Guns. BANGKOK, July 20 .- The belligerent attitude of the French gunboats Comete, Inconstance and Forfait, opposite the middle of the city, is causing great anxiety among the people. All three gunboats have steam up and are cleared for action. The men are continually beat to quarters and they train the guns on any Siamese boat that happens to pass them on its way up or down the river, day or night, although, in accordance with an agreement with M Pavie. French minister resident, the Siamese government endeavors to allay suspicion by warning in advance the French commander of the passage of every Siamese man-of-war. Freedom of action in the negotiations is much restricted by the pressure exercised ostentatiously by the French war vessels.

China Will Help Slam. TIEN TSIN, July 20.-Information has been received here from Pekin to the effect that China has taken measures to support Siam as against the French. Siam has many years paid tribute to China. The interference of China will add a most interesting feature to the Franco-Siamese dispute, and will probably result in a modification of some of the demands of France as contained in her ultimatum.

The Rome-Rule Bill.

London, July 20.-The last eleven clauses of the home-rule bill were brought through the committee stage this evening. On Thursday evening of last week the work of the House, in committee, had been pushed forward to Clause 27. Clauses up to 40 concerning the title of the act were carried without division. The committee then rose. There was a total lack of excitement throughout the evening. The next work in committee will be the consideration of the postponed financial Clauses 14, 15 and 16, of the new government clauses on finance and postoffice, of the schedules and of the preamble. CAME OFF AS ADVERTISED

Neither the Sheriff nor the Governor Iuterfered with the Broad Ripple Fight.

However, Neither of the "Pugs" Was Damaged to Any Extent-Seventeen Tame Rounds-Fight Given to Dwyer.

The first of the exhibitions of the Indianapolis Exhibition Cinb was given last night at Broad Ripple, it consisting of a "glove contest" between Frank Dwyer, of Michigan, and Harry Murphy, of this State. The men fought seventeen rounds, and the fight was then given to Dwyer, Murchy refusing

Although the fight had been fully advertised, there were no officers present to stop it. The police were on hand before the start was made for the grounds, but they did not seek to follow the crowd. Governor Matthews was at home, the sheriff of the county was noticeably absent, and if there were any officers in the village of Broad

Ripple they did not show up. The Governor took no more cognizance of the fight, nor as much as he has of the Roby exhibitions. Secretary King said yesterday that the Governor could not afford to order out the militia at every newspaper report of a prize fight in a haymow. Early in the evening the promoters of the fight came near calling it off, tearing that there would be police interference, but later decided to let it go on. When Broad Ripple was reached there was another hitch about seenring the grounds that had been expected. That was finally arranged, and the crowd of some fifty or more sports which had gathered at the suburb adjourned to the ring. Once there all arrangements were found to be complete, with the exception of the lights. twenty-four-foot ring was pitched in the center of a pavelion, and was arranged in the most approved style. Its posts were not padded, but it was well and firmly built. Kerosene lamps were all that was provided for light, and they illaminated the ring but dimly, and vaguely showed the faces of the men who had gathered around it. The wait at the ring side was a long one, and was occasioned by the announcement that there would be another delegation of "sports" out from the city. Finally they arrived, and the fun was allowed to proceed. Frank Dwyer entered the ring weighing 122 pounds, and Harry Murphy 132 pounds. George Gillespie and Al Field appeared be-Murphy behind Murphy. Charles Evans was selected referee. Time was called at 11:20 o'clock.

The fight lasted seventeen rounds, and in none of them was there any blood spilled or any damage done to either contestant. Up to the eighth round Dwyer, the smaller map, did all of the aggressive work, and struck every blow that amounted to anything. After that he played on the defensive, and most of the rounds were processions. Several times the men clinched, and several times Dwyer threw his opponent heavily to the floor. Each of these times Murphy claimed a foul, but he was not allowed it. He was so much the larger man that all the sympathies of the audience were with the other man, and they guyed him into continuing the fighting. Some of the fours made by Dwyer were palpable ones, but Murphy was not damaged by them. In the seventeenth round Murphy forced Dwyer to the ropes, and there hit him the first hard blow he had struck during the fight.

It was a half right hand upper out, and it caught Dwyer squarely on the jaw. It staggered him for a moment, and, had Murphy followed up his advantage. he, doubtless, would have damaged his opponent to a considerable extent, if he had not won the tight. The referee interfered, and said that he must not his his man when he was on the ropes. Murphy got mad and said that he would not continue the fight, pulling off his gloves. Referee Evane then gave the fight to Dwyer and the crowd broke up, after giving Murphy a round roasting. The fight was not a big success as a financial venture, but that was not expected by given, and it will not be the last.
